It is our wish that the 1973 Volplane will provide an enjoyable record of the students' discoveries, involvements, and achievements during their days at Firestone High.

Look into me and be not afraid,
For I am your past as it clamors against the doors of eternity and is reflected up to you.
I am the serenity that you have sought,
and I am calm where you have attained it . . .
I am the guardian of your peace and the measure of your happiness.
Therefore; think well where you are,
and remember the path
that brought you here.

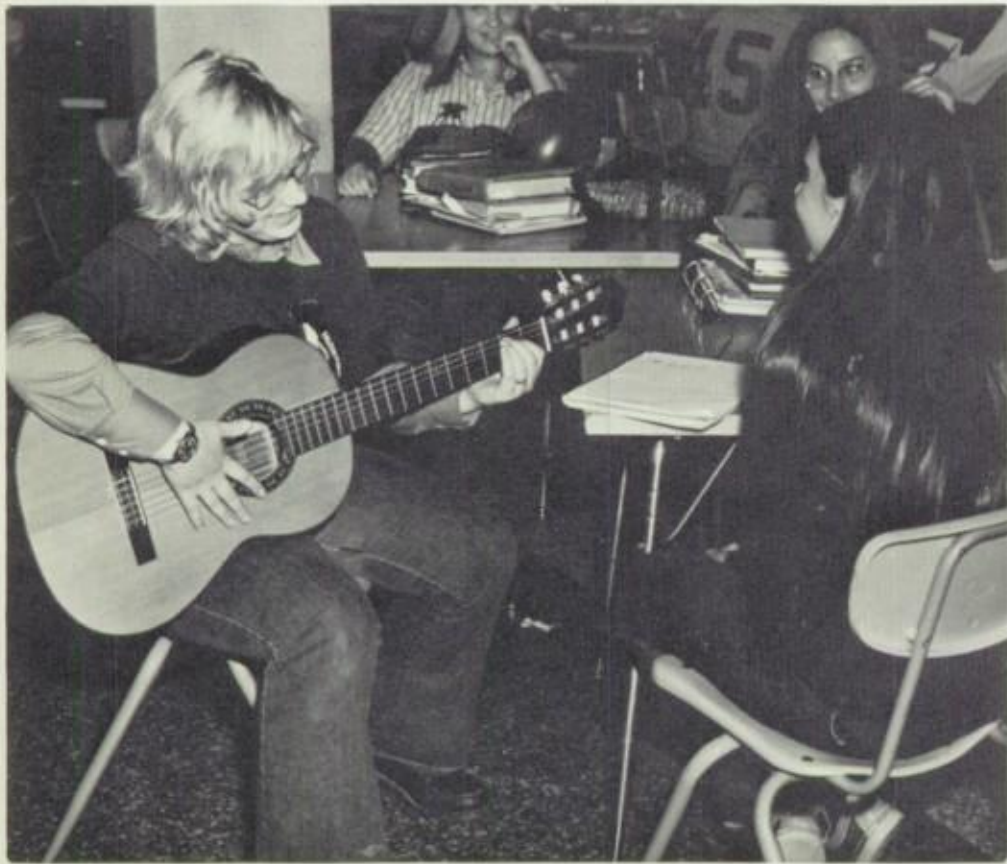

And now fledglings, you are cast forth,
each to chart his own path. The sky is yours
to do with what you will.
Be free,
until we meet again . . .

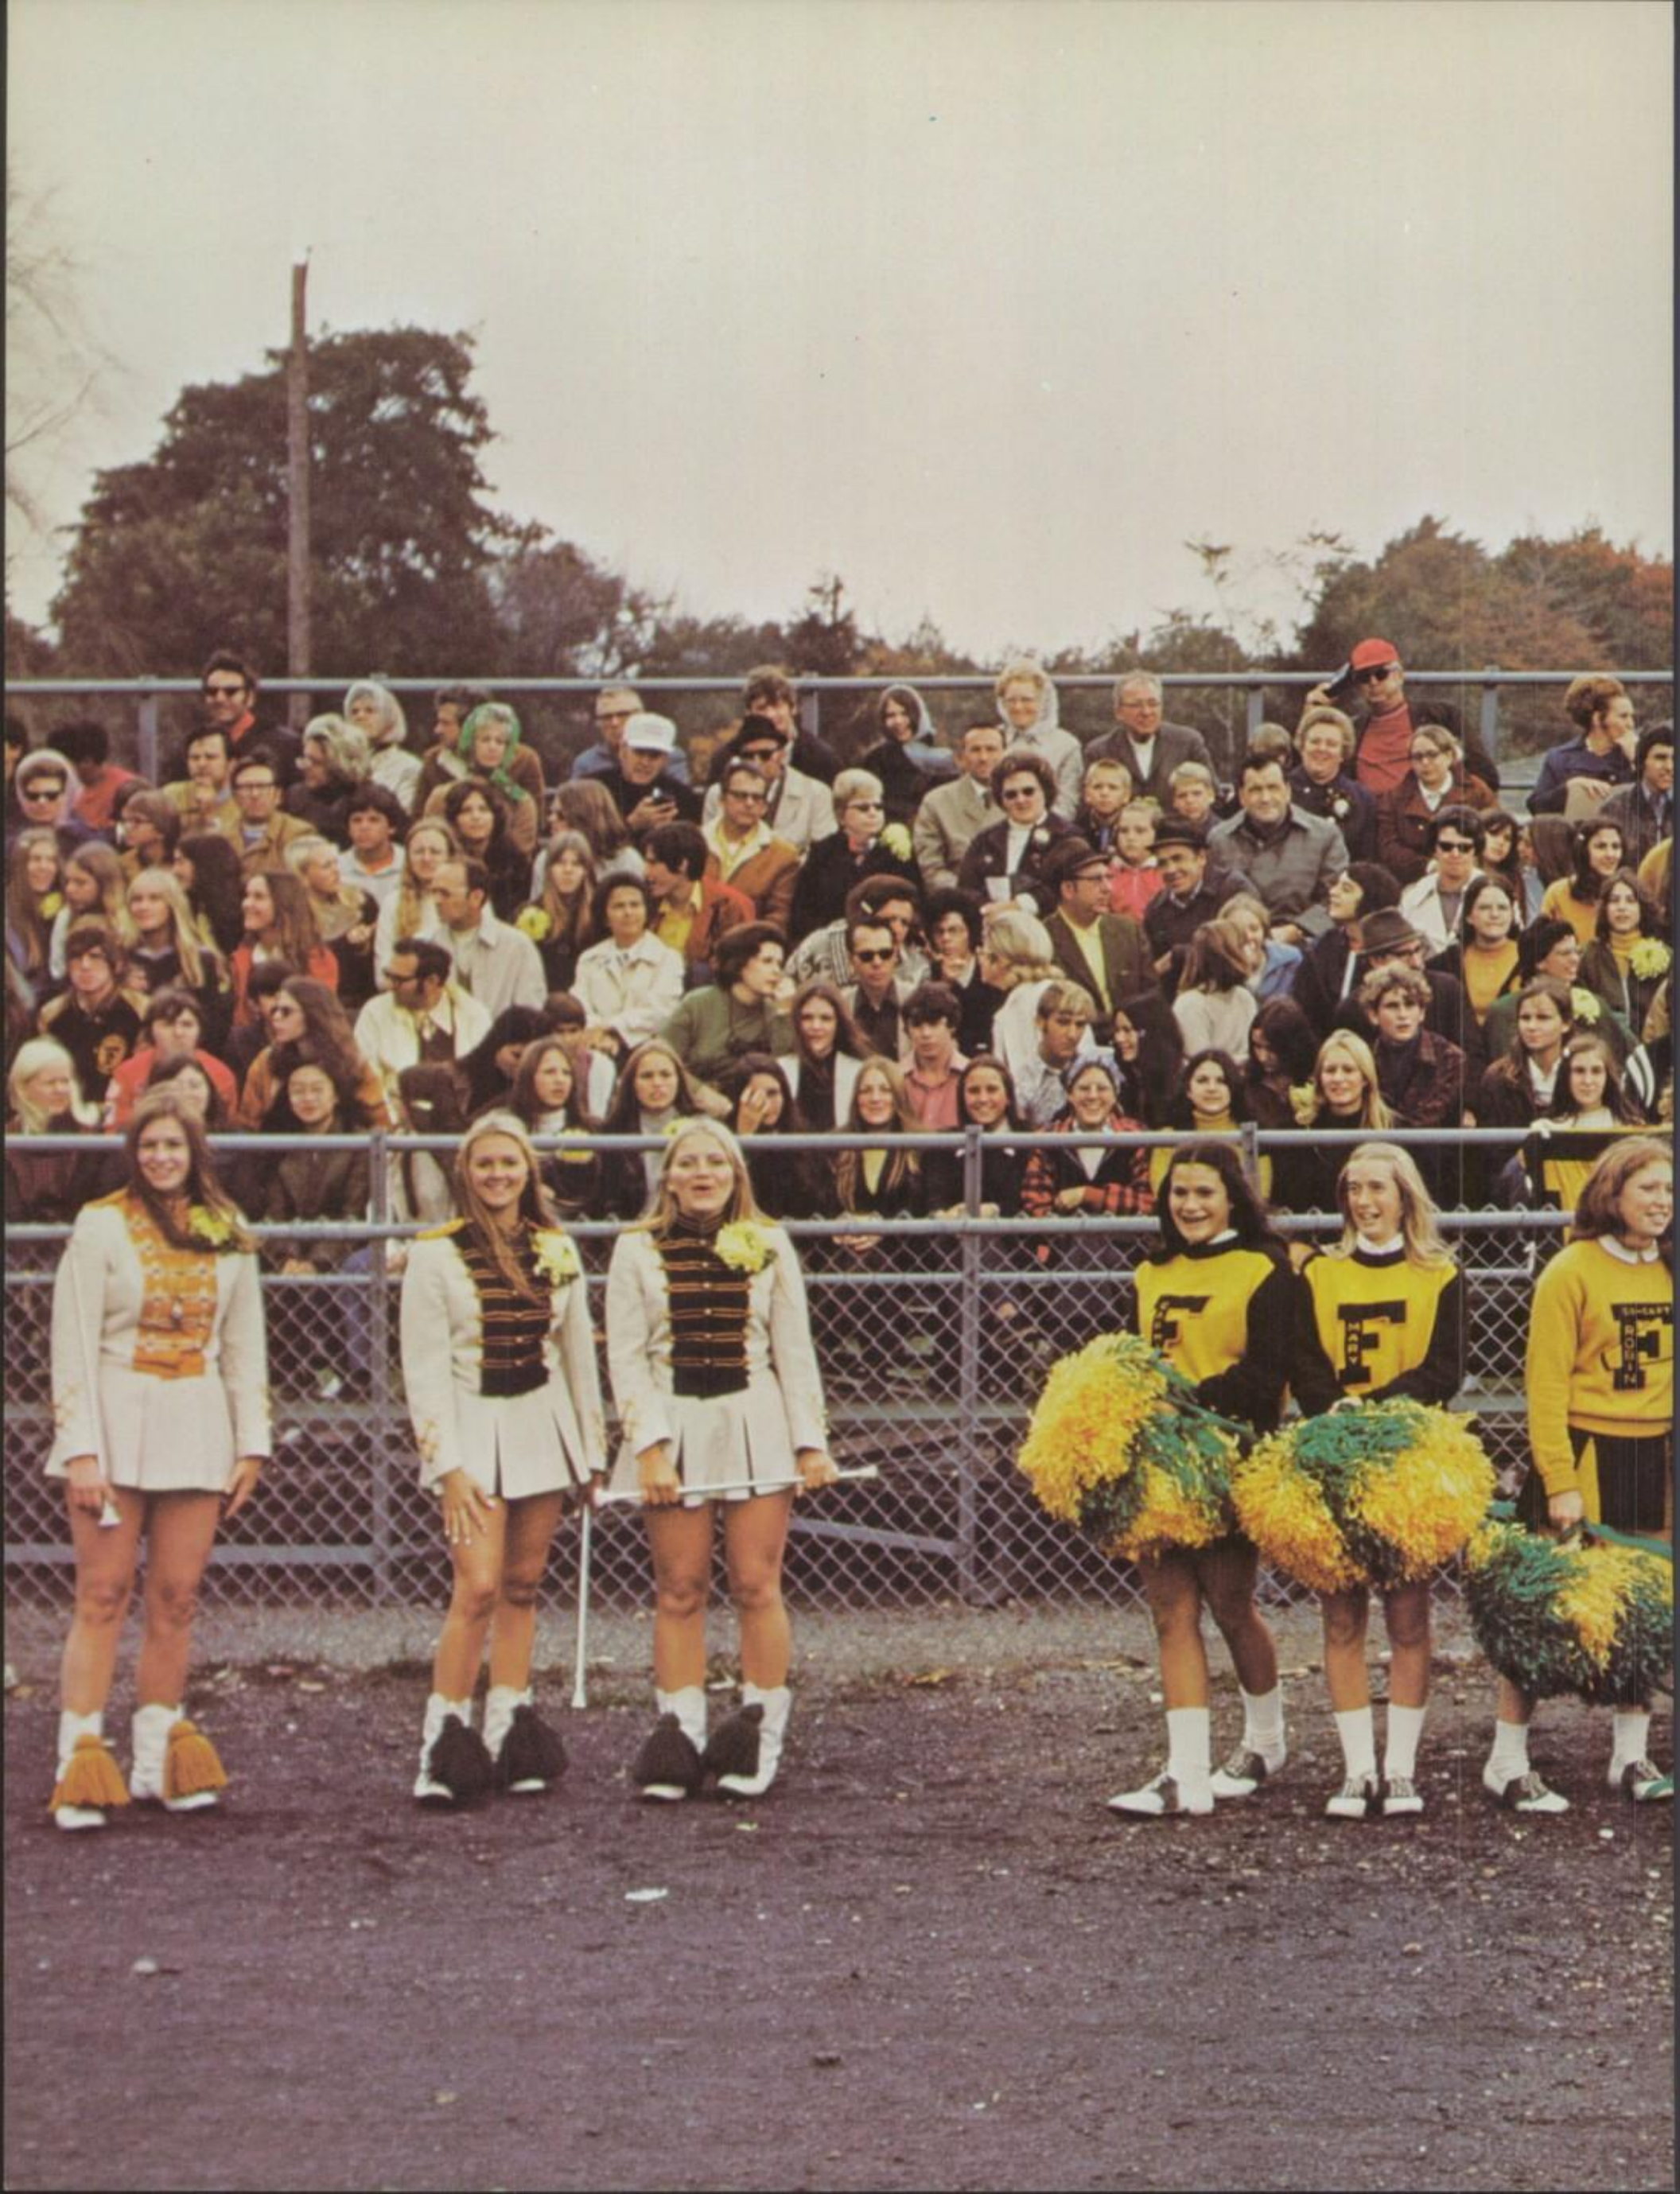

DISCOVERIES

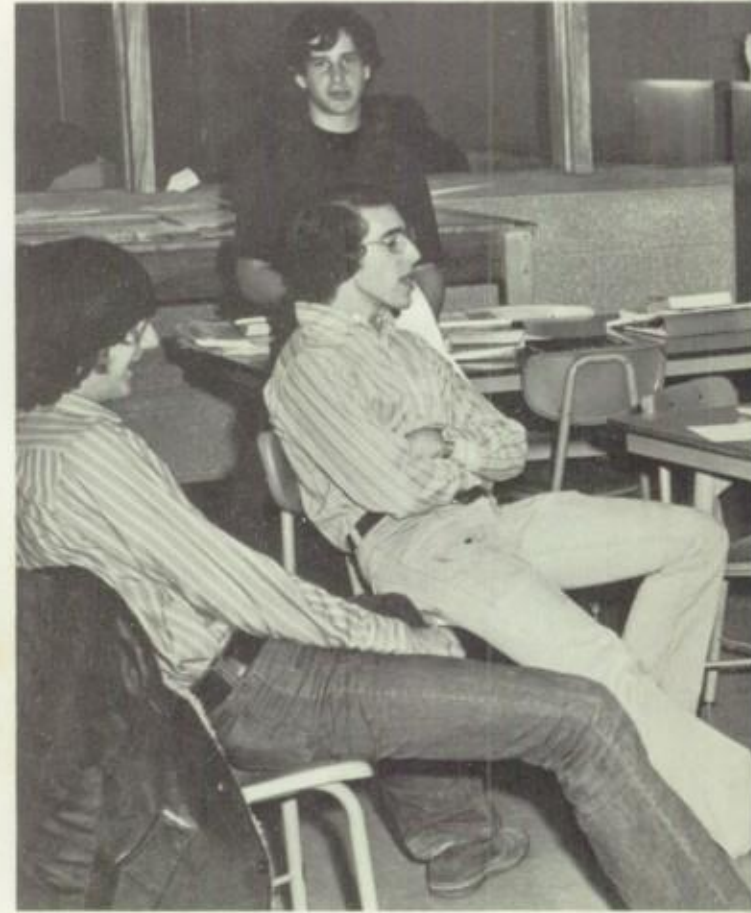

We slowly open our eyes and our ears . . . to recognize a true friend . . . to enjoy the peacefulness of nature . . . to find hidden talents . . . to exchange ideas . . . to meet a teacher as a friend . . . to appreciate the pleasures of learning . . . to discover who we are, and why.

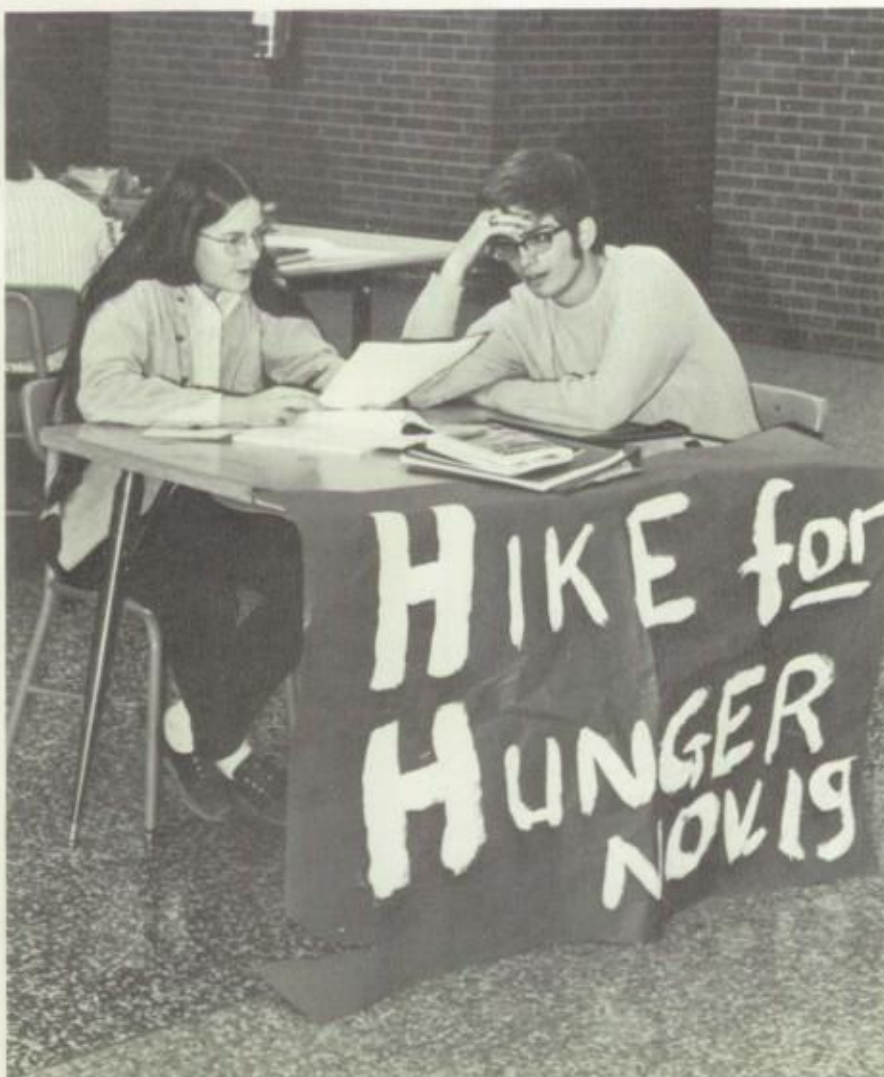

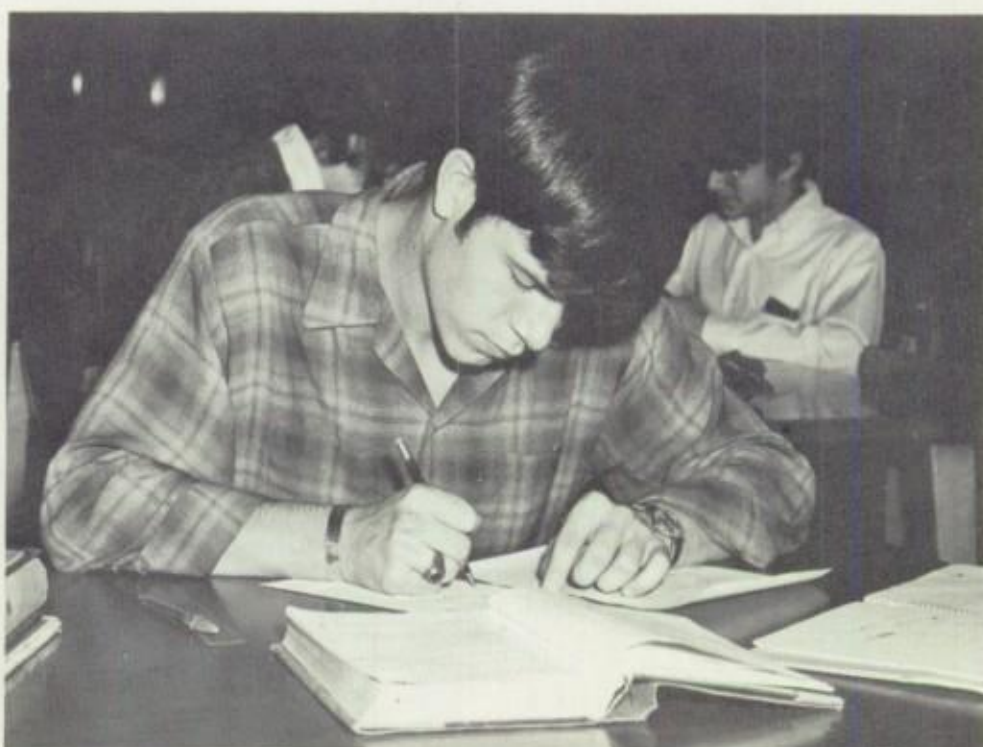

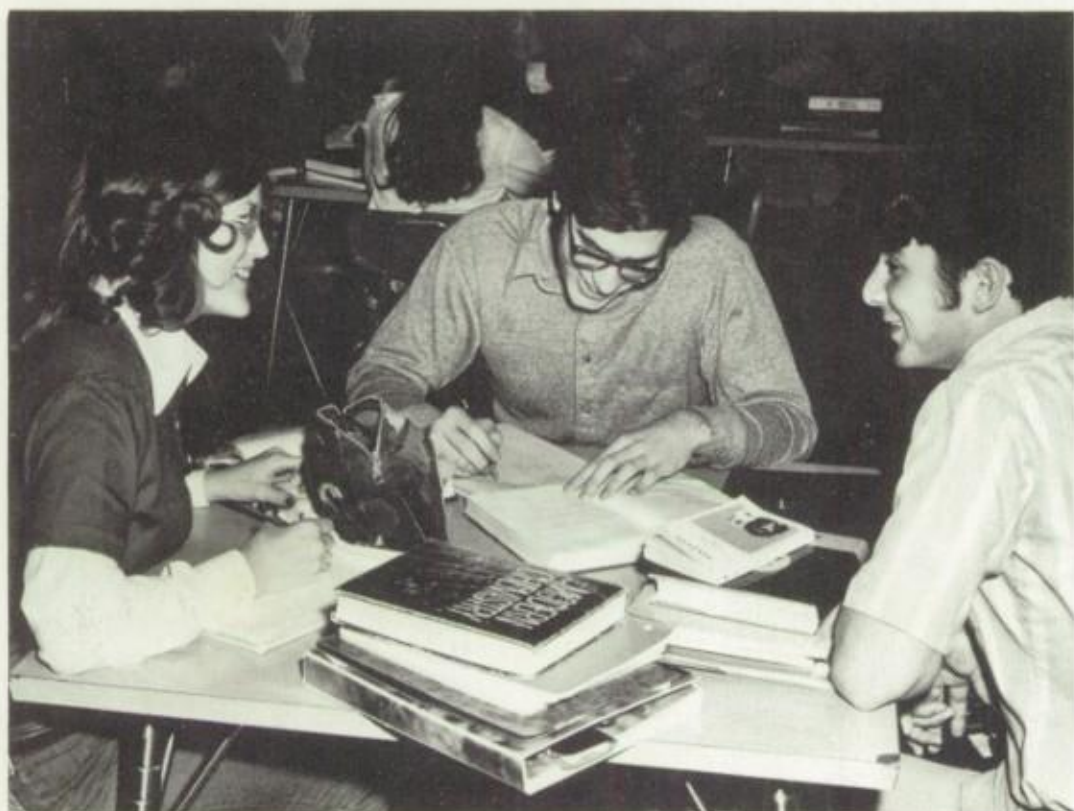

INVOLVEMENT

Once we have discovered our goals in life, we can direct our efforts towards fulfilling them. Students devote their time to studying . . . creating . . . communicating . . . working . . . sharing . . . giving of themselves; thus, creating the spirit of involvement.

ACHIEVEMENT

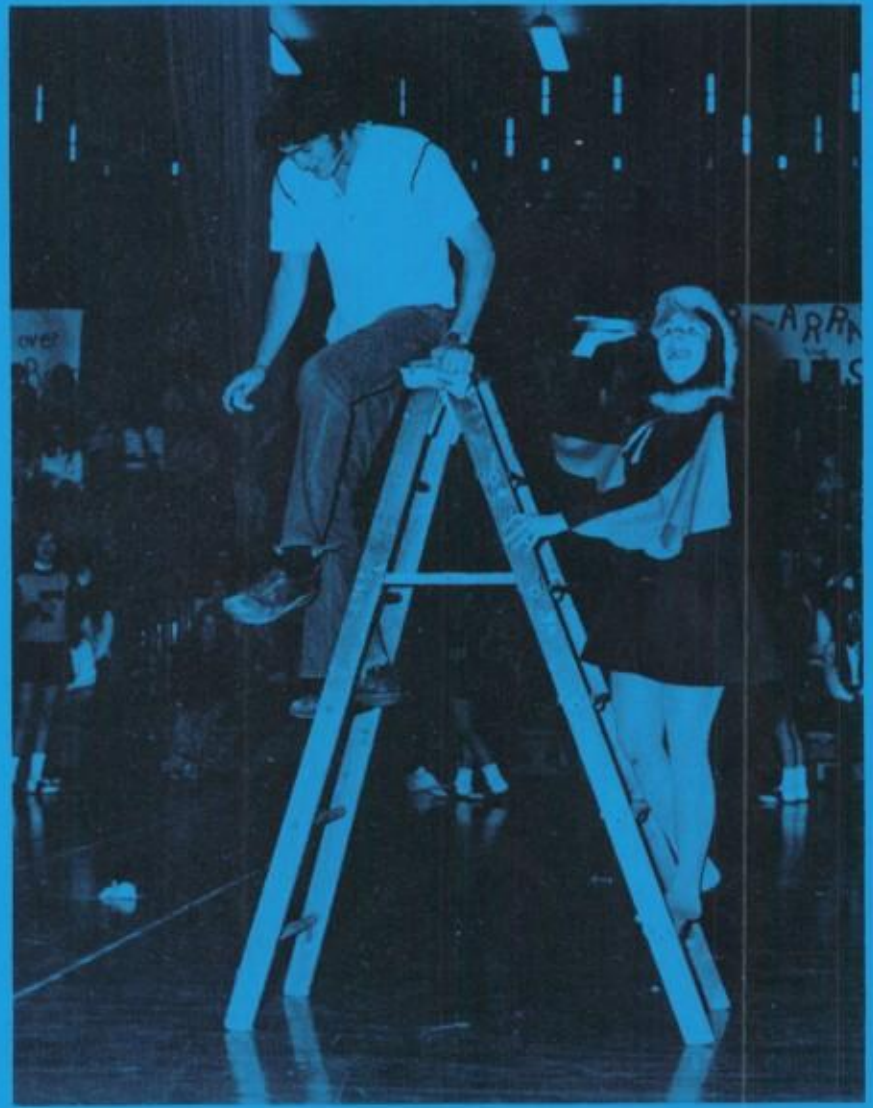

Through our involvement we acquire . . . skills . . . leadership abilities . . . scholastic awards . . . recognition . . . friendships; satisfying our desire for achievement.

Under Enthusiastic Leadership

Captain Sue Bagby presents spirit stick to victorious senior class.

With an ambition surpassing any previous class, the Class of 73 truly lived up to their title "Unique." Working under the direction of advisor, Mr. Bruce Blake, various committees began early during the summer to plan the activities for the coming year. Led by President, Neil Lichtman; Vice-President, George Sarkis; Secretary, Carol Nurches; and Treasurer, Cathy Schlegel, seniors enjoyed the fall picnic and swim party at Valley View, the Halloween party at Paul Voth's Farm, the roller-skating party, and the prom.

Typical of the class' ambition was their concern for Akron's needy. In addition to participating in the annual Hike for Hunger, Toys for Tots, and the canned food drives, there was also the Christmas project. This year the project consisted of giving gifts, singing carols, and providing company for the elderly residents of the Portage Hotel.

Numbering over 460 students, Firestone's largest class has made its presence known at all school functions, proving to be perhaps the most spirited and "unique" class in years.

ADMINISTRATION

Administration Achieves Continued Success

Joseph Friedman

Mr. Friedman has proved himself to be an outstanding principal in his three years at Firestone. His interest extends not only to the students and faculty but to the various activities that Firestone offers. His school spirit has generated enthusiasm among many students.

Mr. Friedman has demonstrated his concern by taking a sincere interest in the problems and questions of the students and faculty. His assistance in changing and improving the school has brought him admiration and respect from all.

Calvin Tritt

Phyllis Lerch

Mr. Tritt and Miss Lerch are Firestone's two assistant principals, whose work enables the school to run smoothly. Mr. Tritt is in charge of discipline and attendance. His attempts in teaching self-discipline have resulted in more freedom for students. He also assigns lockers and books to the students.

Miss Lerch is responsible for student affairs and program research. By stressing involvement in community projects and helping in curriculum changes, she helps students achieve their potential. New classes, such as advanced biology, encourage students to excel in areas that interest them. Projects, such as tutoring at Case and McEbright schools, contributing old shoes and canned foods to the needy, and planning a Halloween party, give students opportunities to involve themselves with their community.

Secretaries and Paraprofessionals

Jeanette Mirman

Alice Scoville

The secretaries and paraprofessionals are vitally important to Firestone. Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. Mirman, and Mrs. Scoville constitute the secretarial staff. Mrs. Schmidt is Mr. Tritt's secretary, and she also assists students. Mrs. Mirman not only is Mr. Friedman's secretary, but she also aids teachers. Mrs. Scoville is responsible for the school's treasury and college transcripts.

The four paraprofessionals are responsible for all dittoing, typing, and mimeographing along with a myriad of other jobs. Mrs. Carver assists Mr. Marquess in the attendance office. Mrs. Strickland also helps Mr. Marquess and works for the history department. Mrs. Scruggs is the paraprofessional for the English department. New this year is Mrs. Kelley, who aids Miss Babeaux in the library.

Counselors Provide Pertinent Advice

Ruth Courtney

Louise Jacobs

Mr. Fluke, Miss Courtney, and Mrs. Jacobs constitute the counseling staff essential to Firestone's administration. They encourage students to recognize and solve their own problems.

Counselors help sophomores acclimate themselves to Firestone; they assist juniors in becoming involved in new interests; and they aid seniors in planning their future education following graduation.

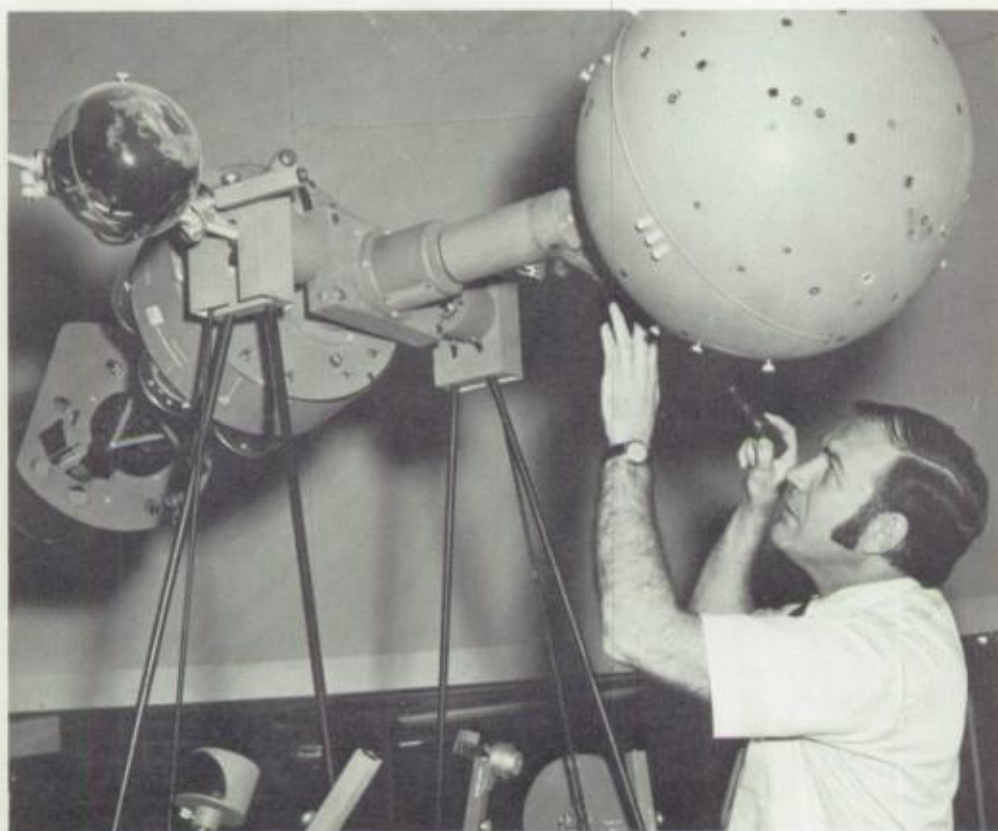

During junior and senior years, students discover the vast number of colleges to choose from through the visual aids in the guidance area. Materials such as college catalogs, a college visitation calendar, and a scholarship bulletin board inform the student of future scholastic possibilities. Vocational files and a job bulletin board aid those who wish to pursue a vocational future.

The staff offers consulting services for teachers, students, and parents. They record and analyze each student's achievement, and they administer scholastic and achievement tests. Students and counselors together work with outdoor education, college representatives, and a follow-up study program for graduates.

The counselors are also involved with the community. Through such activities as attending P.T.A. Meetings, speaking to groups, and participating in school events, they extend their interests outside of the school.

Kay Fluke

Donald Hammett

The Learning Resource Center has been in operation for two years. Not only do students have access to books, but the library also has audio and visual aid facilities. Microfilm, filmstrips, records, tapes, pictures, film loops, maps, and transparencies are among the material available. This area provides a place for independent study in a quiet atmosphere of readily available media. The student's extension of interests beyond the classroom is reflected in the wide use of the L.R.C.

Firestone's planetarium aids Akron area students in the discovery of the universe. Every day groups from junior high and grade schools visit our planetarium. An astronomy class is available for F.H.S. students who wish to pursue this interest. Through the planetarium, students of all ages gain a wider knowledge of the universe.

Film-making classes aid students in discovering the techniques and processes of producing and presenting films. Included are the operations and uses of a camera. Multa-media classes study mass communication. Through this course students realize the importance of mass communication in today's world.

English Department Traces Progression of Literature

Ruth Nilsson

Thomas Smith

The English department emphasizes opportunities in each course for students to discover all facets of literature. The sophomore curriculum consists of general studies of literature with grammar review. Junior studies include a number of novels and writing from the 1700's to present times. A wider field of English courses is provided for the senior class. English literature, World literature, or practical English are offered.

An experimental program has been initiated into the already established curriculum during the second semester. The senior students choose from a list of forty subjects. Some of the courses offered include poetry, protest literature, fiction and non-fiction, modern English novels, Dickens, fantasy literature, research, and creative writing. If successful, this unique addition to Firestone's English department will be considered for following years.

Traditional methods of lecture and discussion coupled with the newer approaches to teaching such as: inquiry, discovery, video taping, student-made audio visuals, and expository writing, add to the vitality of a student-centered social studies program at Firestone. Course offerings are world history, world geography, American history, problems of democracy, sociology, behavioral science, and humanities.

through Study of Mathematics

Eugene Viland

There are numerous mathematical programs provided at Firestone. These courses enable students to discover the many facets involved in mathematics ranging from simple addition to the most difficult process of calculus. Optional courses include Algebra I and II, Algebra II-Trig, geometry, technical math, elementary functions, math analysis, and calculus. Most courses are open to all three grade levels in order that the student may achieve any desired degree of learning in this field.

Languages are a necessity for communication in the world today. In Firestone's language department, in addition to the basics of grammar, students discover the customs, geography, and cultures of other nations. While developing their skills in reading, speaking, and writing the language, students become involved with the people and their backgrounds. This study increases their overall understanding of world knowledge and encourages their involvement in extra activities. Courses offered are French, Spanish, German, Latin, and Russian.

The Science department at F.H.S. offers a wide variety of courses for involved students. General chemistry and regular chemistry investigate the logic as well as the general aspects of chemistry. Physics, studied by juniors and seniors, involves the concepts of the natural world and its phenomena. Physical science covers many different sciences separately and collectively, teaching man's relationship to his environment. Two biology courses are offered this year to Firestone students. The first is primarily for sophomores and covers the basics of biology. The second course, advanced biology, is new this year and is offered to seniors. The students investigate those dimensions of life which intrigue them most.

Physical education is a mandatory class for sophomores and optional for juniors and seniors. Three distinct areas of participation are covered: skills, leisure time, and recreational activities. An essential part of the program is the combined swimming-life saving course.

Health classes stress personal care, cleanliness, and first aid. Current social problems are also discussed to encourage positive attitudes.

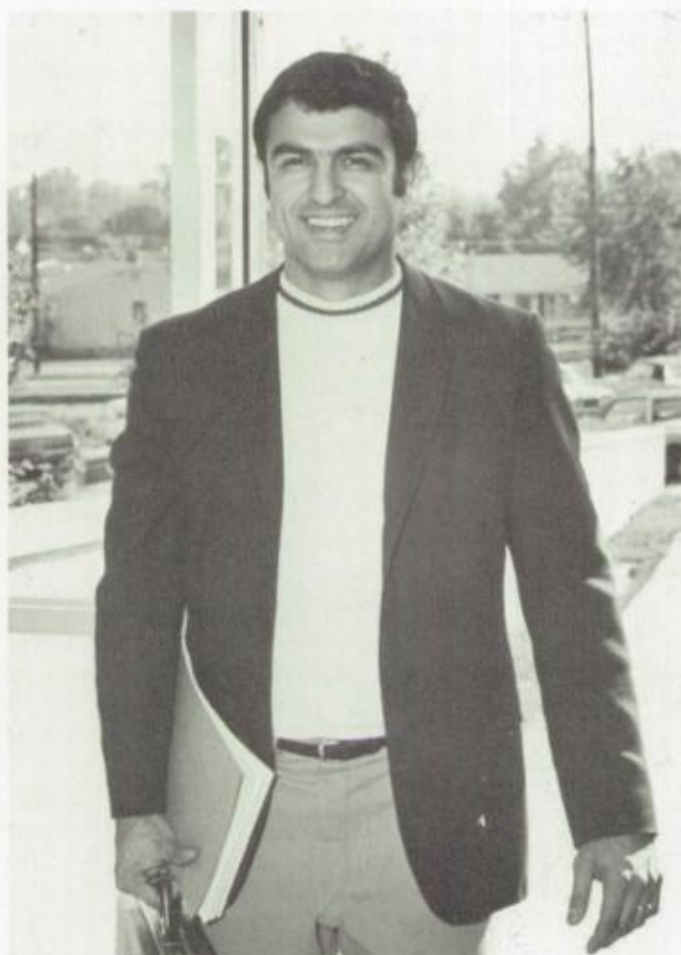

Driver's Education teaches the rules and regulations of driving as well as safety. Students are made aware of the hazards of driving and are instructed in home nursing and first aid.

Firestone's Commercial Arts department helps students prepare for the future. This is achieved by developing their skills through practical application and classroom experience. Four basic areas are offered: shop, home economics, O.W.E. and business.

Wood shop, metal shop, and mechanical drawing instruct those interested in planning, design, and construction. Clothing, foods, and home decoration classes provide experience in domestic skills.

The Occupational Work Experience Program (O.W.E.) gives students the chance to work in actual job situations. Students involved in this program attend classes in the morning and go to work in the afternoon.

Typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business law, economics, and general business classes develop skills of students planning a career in the business world, or of those simply wishing to improve their own abilities.

Firestone students pursue music and art to broaden their creative talents.

The Music department offers a wide variety of activities for students pursuing skills in the field of music. These include: A Cappella Choir, Sophomore Choir, and Girls' Glee Club, for those interested in vocalization. Orchestra, Marching Band, and Concert Band are available to students interested in instrumental work. Ensembles provide opportunities for the musically inclined students to perform within small groups. Music theory, music history, and elementary education preparation deal with the historical background of music.

The Art department provides a course of basic drawing and design for first year art students. Following this, the student may take classes in sculpture, crafts, or ceramics. Art Appreciation, an historical study of art, is open to all students.

Coalition has undertaken many new projects this year. One proposal under investigation is a student smoking lounge to eliminate smoking in unauthorized areas. Coalition has lowered the copy machine fee from 10c to 5c and is working on reviving the old policy of an open library to students during the lunch periods. Coalition has been successful in transforming the ideas of parents, teachers and students into useful projects.

Homeroom Representatives assisted Coalition this year by reporting news from the meetings to the students in their homerooms. The Reps. also organized and sponsored charity drives such as the Canned Food Drive, the Shoe Drive, and the Toys for Tots Campaign. Under the direction of Mrs. Barbieri, Homeroom Reps. collected money to immunize children of Latin American countries for Project Hope. A Greaser dance was held by the Reps. in conjunction with the senior class. The dance was a revival of the 50's sock hop dances with Carl Day from WHLO as disc jockey. Homeroom Reps. helped to make 1973 a successful year.

CASE TUTORS

Miss Lerch and Mrs. Tussing, a Case School teacher, organized a tutorial program between Firestone and Case. This program gave Firestone seniors experience working with grade school children and provided individual help to Case Students who normally would not have received assistance.

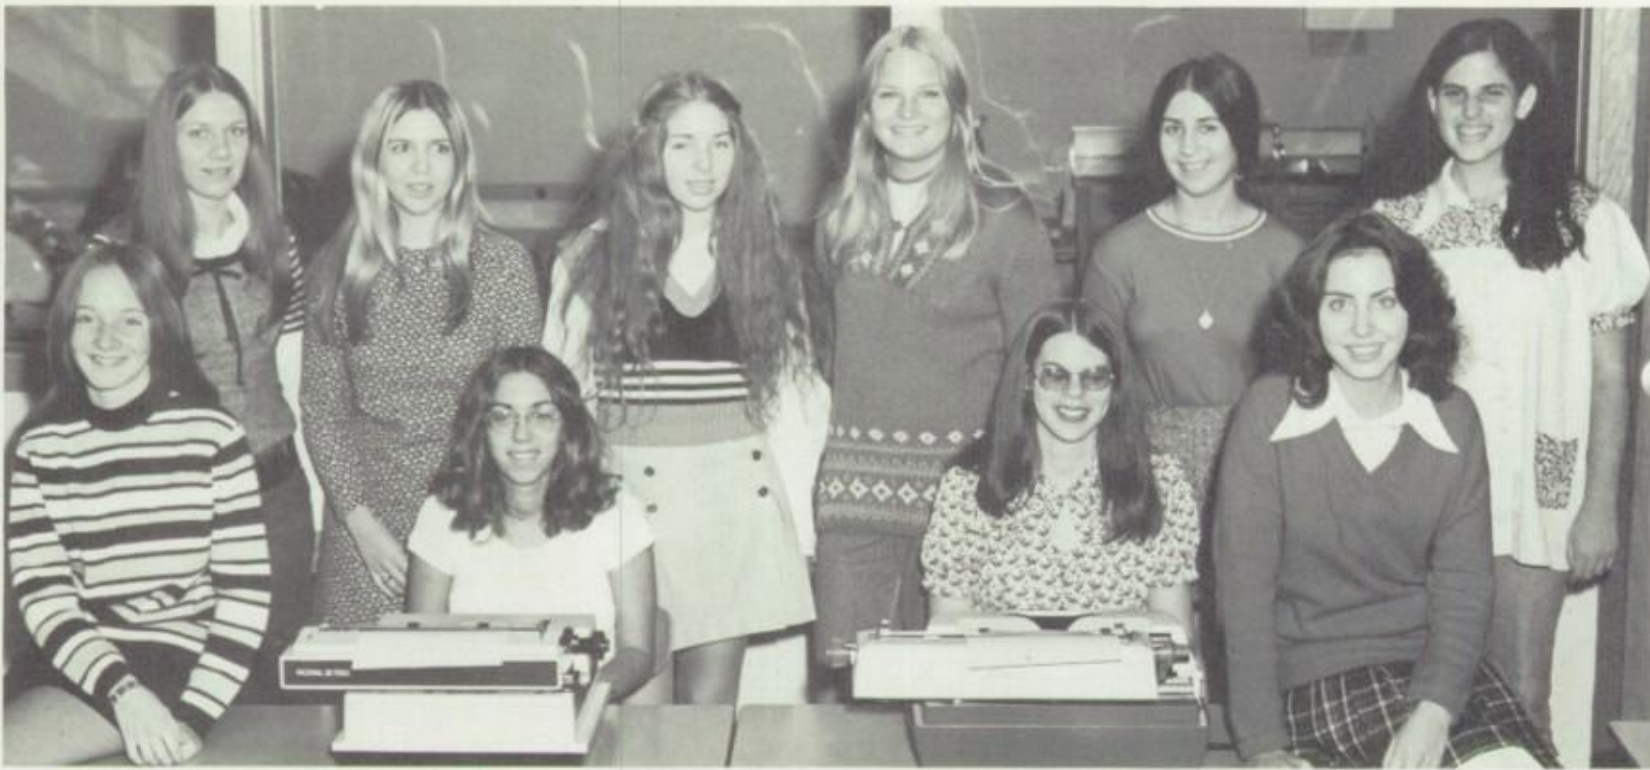

Along with tutoring individuals, the Case Tutors teach classes, help teachers by grading papers, supervise, and act as counselors when needed. These services give the teacher extra time to plan new activities that enhance learning. The tutorial program has proved to be very successful and will continue next year.

This year for the first time, Firestone was invited to compete in Ohio Edison's Academic Challenge. Following the trial competition Alan Auerbach (captain), Ed Eyler, and Ray Bules were chosen to represent Firestone. Beth Norman and Jan Sturgis were alternates.

Through the time and efforts of their coach, Ronald Snider, the team was victorious with 430 points to John F. Kennedy's 290 and St. Edward's 295 points.

This victory earned the team the right to compete in the quarter-finals against Archbishop Hoban High School and Mayfield High. Firestone emerged victorious again with 415 points to Hoban's 265 and Mayfield's 205.

The team continued to the semi-finals, where they suffered their first defeat to St. Ignatius.

These triumphs earned Firestone a set of Collier's and Merit Student Encyclopedias.

Students congratulate the Academic team.

Equity Wins in the End

The girls' dedicated practice all seemed worthwhile with an over-all record of 6-3. Our girls were far superior to the others, for being the only ones to play power-volleyball in every game.

Making their way into play-offs, they put up a hard fight only to lose a close game. Their season ended way ahead of last year's, as they tied with Buchtel for 3rd place.

Once again, the Firestone Runners wound up this season on a high note. They continued to dominate Akron schools, thus winning the City Series championship. In the Woodridge Invitational John Robinson, Firestone's premier runner, set a new course record in covering the two mile course in 10:36. Robinson and co-captain Mark Robey finished out their great records at Firestone by qualifying for the State meet in Columbus.

Congratulations to all Firestone Cross Country men and to their inspirational leader and coach William Heideman on another fine season.

Dedication. . .Hard Work; Makes a Winner

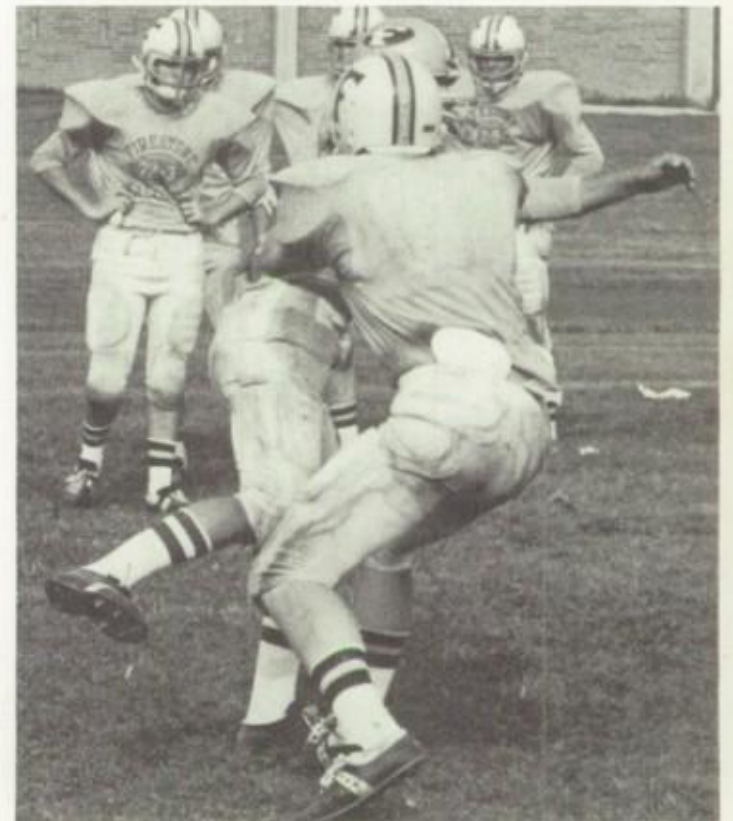

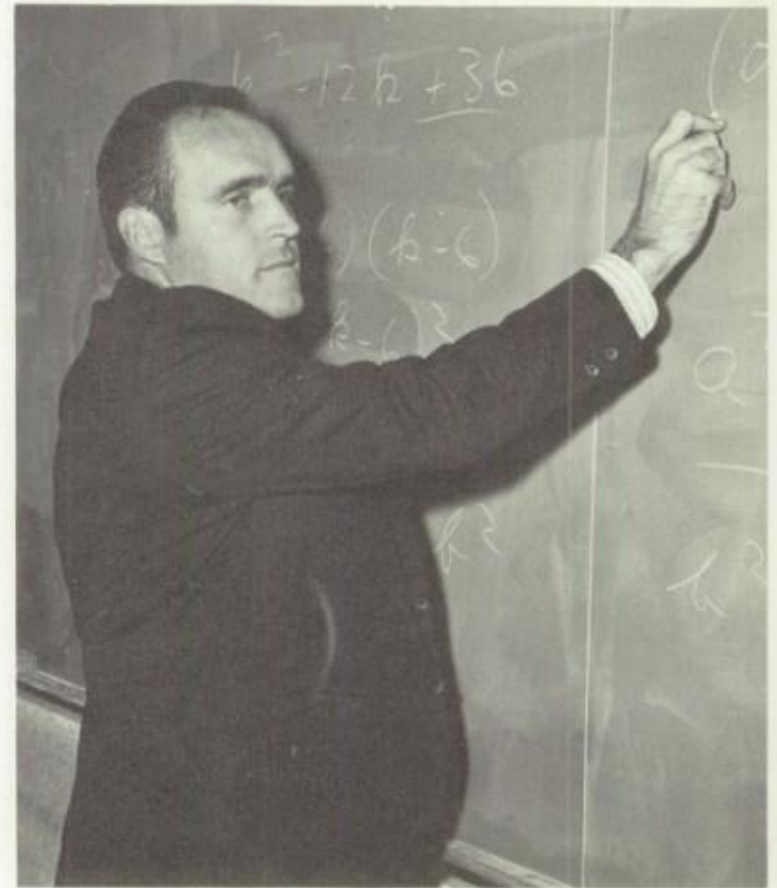

With ten years of organized football and eight years of coaching experience behind him, Firestone's new head football coach, Eugene Viland brings impressive credentials with him to Firestone High School.

Mr. Viland has attended Geneva High School and Hiram College. He played football three years in junior high, three years in high school, and four years in college.

In 1963 Mr. Viland was appointed assistant coach at Kenmore High School. After being promoted to head coach in 1964, he led Kenmore to a 12-6 record. From 1966-68 he was head coach at Dan McCarty High School in Ft. Pierce, Florida. Returning to Kenmore in 1969, Coach Viland became the defensive coordinator until 1971. In the spring of 1972 he was named head coach of Firestone High!

When he came to Firestone, Coach Viland coordinated an entirely new coaching staff. Garnold Green and Frank Marr were recruited from Kenmore. Charlie Marquess came from St. Vincent, and Chuck Schuman from East High. Ralph Pardee, who previously was assistant coach at Doylestown High and head coach at United Local High, was also named an assistant coach.

Before the onset of the season, Coach Viland organized methods for improving the community and school support of football and selling the players on a winning attitude. As evidenced by a vastly improved football team, Coach Viland is on the right track.

After showing great promise in the pre-season scrimmages, the 1972 Firestone football team went on to post a 3-5 record. However, the Falcon offense didn't play consistently. Although they scored a 14-6 victory over South, a playoff semi-finalist, and rolled up 27 points against Highland and 20 points against Central-Hower, they were held scoreless against Buchtel, East, and Garfield. Losing Quarterback Dave Miller in the first quarter against Garfield really hurt the Falcon offense.

With five starters and nine returning seniors, the Firestone basketball team seemed to have all the ingredients for a winning season. After a full summer of workouts, the team looked impressive in scrimmages against highly regarded Manchester and Tallmadge. However, the team finished the season with a 4-12 record.

What was the cause of the turnabout? Coach Heideman said it best: "After several losses the players' confidence was shaken; they began trying too hard, and they lost their composure. Overall, both players and coach learned valuable lessons through defeat." After three years as coach, a combined record of 23-29, Coach Heideman resigned at the end of the basketball season.

The varsity was led by co-captains Gus Poyastro, a second team All-City pick, and Kevin Shippy, a steady forward and excellent rebounder. Kevin was sorely missed at the beginning of the season after he hurt his ankle in practice.

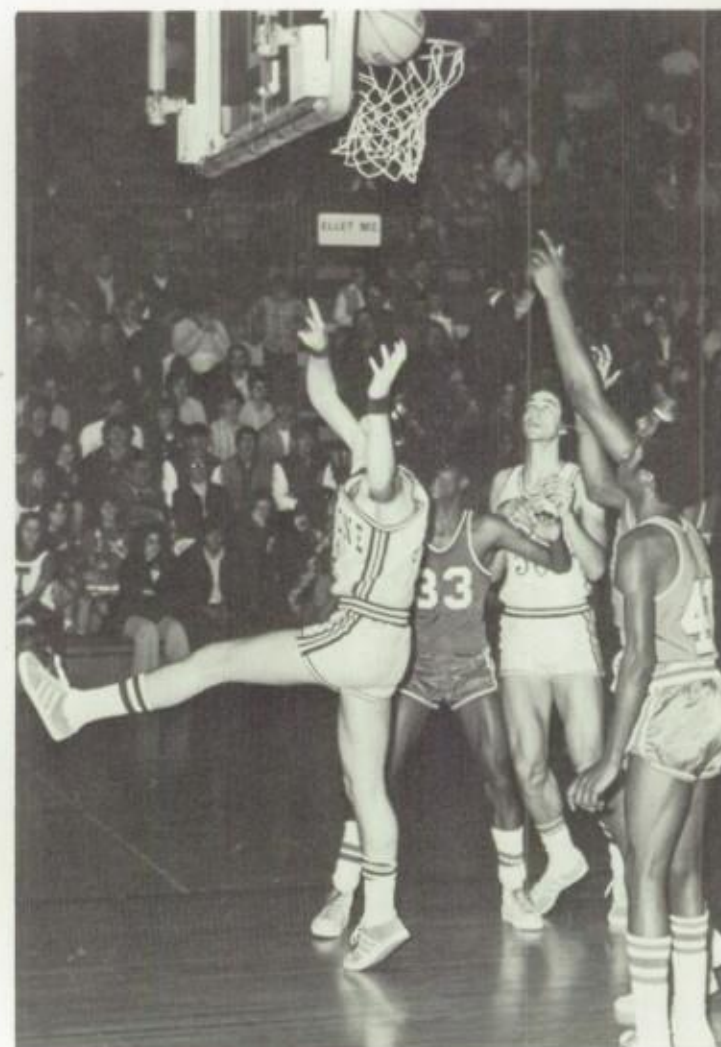

Things look bright for the upcoming season thanks to Coach Schuett and his junior varsity team. Led by center John Wooding and guard Steve Rosenthal, the team compiled an excellent 10-5 record.

Stan Willey, Jeff Schobert, and Jim Colley psyche up for the start.

The most exciting swim meet of the year took place at Firestone between Cuyahoga Falls and Firestone. Falls falsestarted in the first relay, letting the Falcons take first place. Those seven points proved to be the winning margin, as Firestone took the meet, 51-44.

Firestone placed second in the district meet with John Hunyadi placing fifth in the diving.

The outstanding senior swimmers were Jeff Hicks, Bill Jones, Mike Laraway, Tom Van Auker, Mike Friend, and Stan Willey. Replacing these swimmers next year will be Mike Konstan, Rick Renner, Scott Tremlin, Jeff Schobert, Tom Keplinger and Doug Wagner. The best sophomore swimmers were Bruce Bain and Frank Finelli.

The water polo team had an excellent season, placing third in the state play-offs.

Falcons Take-Down Opponents to Defeat

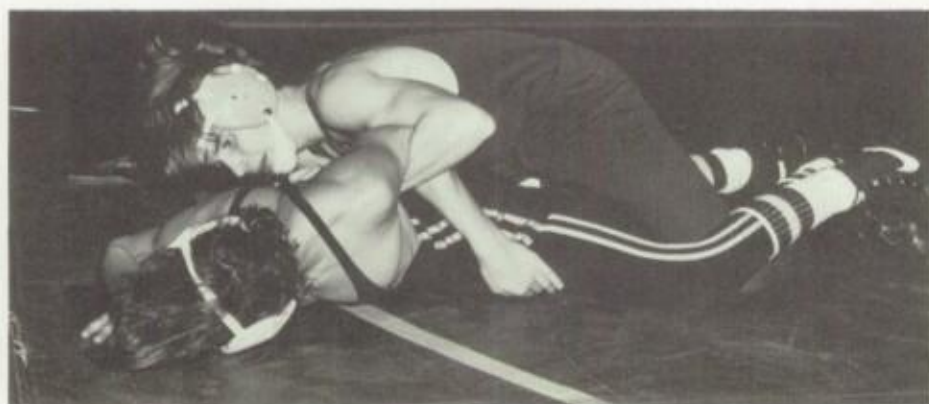

In the opening match of the year, menacing St. Vincent-St. Mary had the Falcons down 25-24 going into the last match. Heavyweight Dave Thomas rose to the occasion to pin arch-rival Jim Thomas. By defeating his opponent, Thomas enabled Firestone to pull through with a 30-25 victory over St. Vincent-St. Mary. This match marked the first time the Falcons have defeated St. Vincent-St. Mary in Firestone's history.

The Firestone wrestling team compiled a season record of 7-3, finishing second in city, with a record of 5-3. Falcon co-captains, John Ballard and Dave Thomas, consistently outmaneuvered their opponents. Thomas finished first in the Brunswick Tournament and went to District. Senior Chad McClenathan, along with junior Dave Wilging, finished first in the North Invitational and also continued to District.

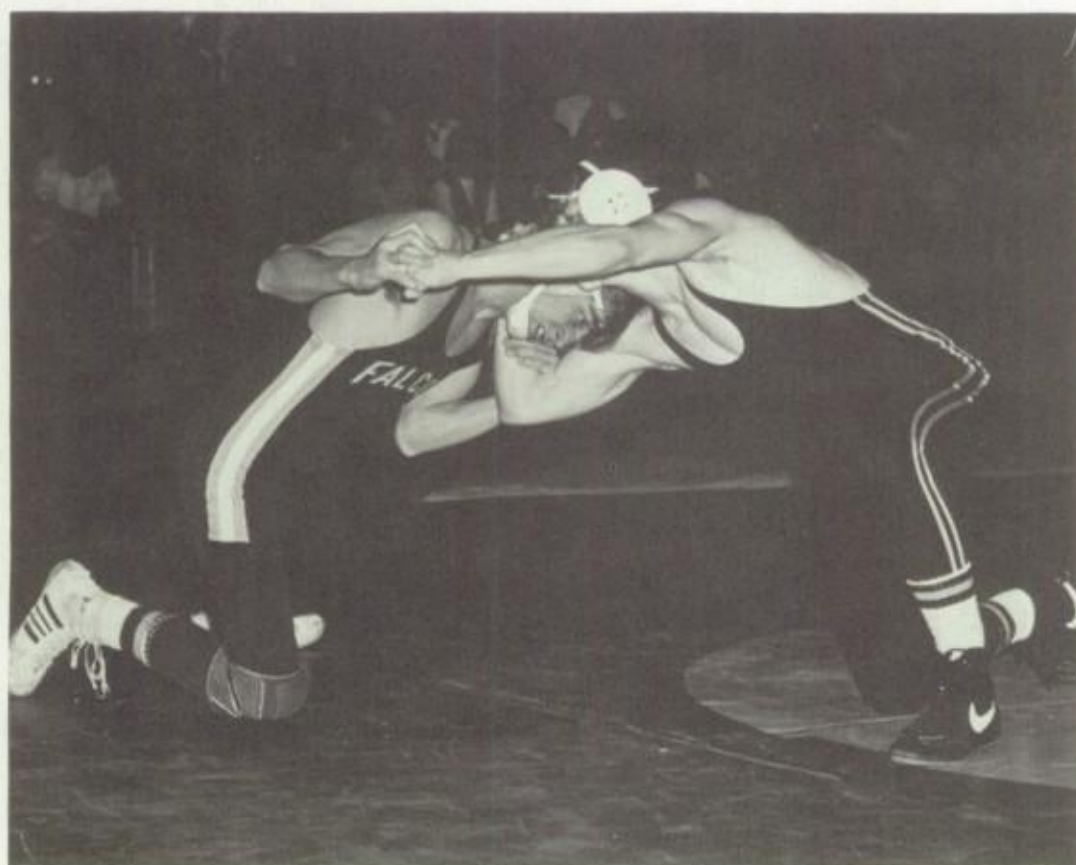

Firestone's fine record can be attributed to Ron Laubaugh's excellent coaching.

Tim Smith, Debbie Mulvey, Chuck Renner, Rick Bean, and Craig Darkow prepare to march on New York City.

Alan Auerbach and Mark Robey remain at court with Jane Timmons.

Faculty Director Mr. Robert Schlemmer

Noah Reaven explains the Q-Bomb to Pam Rosen, Martha Stem, Stew Ross, Bruce Carlson, and Lynette Schleicher.

Mark Robey offers directions to Lisa Freeman, Debbie Boyle, Fran Gertz, and Kim Cunningham.

Under the direction of Mr. Robert Schlemmer, members of the senior class presented "The Mouse That Roared."

The play depicted an attempt by Grand Fenwick, a small, insignificant country to declare war on the United States. The small country was in need of money, as her once prosperous wine production had fallen far behind that of California's, and she was going bankrupt. Never expecting to win, her rulers decided to march on New York City, be defeated, and then receive financial aid as a defeated enemy.

Commanded to lead Grand Fenwick's fearless army was Tully Bascom, who was unaware of his queen's desire to lose the "war." As he invaded New York, he succeeded in capturing the Q-Bomb, a weapon so powerful that it could destroy the world in minutes. Thus, much to her dismay, Grand Fenwick had become the most powerful nation in the world.

Kay Blocher

"Working on the Volplane staff for two years is an experience I will never forget. Despite all the hard work required by the staff in putting Volplane 1973 together, it was well worth the time. The finished book is payment in itself, as it provides the graduating seniors with many memories of their final year at Firestone."

Dale Epstein

"Compiling the 1973 Volplane has been an educating although quite frustrating experience. This year has proven to all of the staff the constant need for cooperation among all individuals, without which nothing will ever be achieved. To the special friends and staff who were subjected to my moments of total frustration, tension and even pride, thanks for your tolerance."
